Description

Hike with snow shoes from the Almhofel Glieshof as far as the valley and to the malga Upi

Leaving from the Glieshof, you walk diagonally southwards through the grassland to the woods and then follow the path up to the ski depot with a small chair lift which reaches the avalanche and landslide barriers of Ramudelgraben. The tour leads you across grassland to a castle surrounded by a moat and crossing the access path, passing the diversion for the Valle Ramudelta, you turn right in the southwest direction along the forest trail with a slight incline through the woods as far as the Valle Upi.

Here, in a southern direction, crossing the bridge over the brook on the right and passing the meteorological cross, you reach the malga (2225 m). You can return to the car park retracing the same route as the climb.
